

Beit Midrash

January 28, 2017 - 2:00-3:30 (after Shabbat lunch)

Confronting Racism: An Introduction

Come with courage to confront racism first in our internal selves and then in our systems and institutions. This awareness of white privilege and our participation in a system of white supremacy needs to inform our actions. The divide in this country can only be healed by honest exploration in ourselves first.

There is the possibility that this may be an on-going series.

If you would like to do some reading beforehand, here are some excellent articles:

White Privilege: Unpacking the Invisible Knapsack

- Peggy McIntosh

I, Racist

-John Metta

I'm Not White, I'm Jewish: Standing as Jews in the Fight for Racial Justice

-Paul Kivel